

AMOS SINFIELD RICHMAN
22 January 1886 - 3 July 1970

EVA LEONA FARLEY RICHMAN
22 April 1893 - 28 October 1978

When Amos was a young man he filled a mission for the church Of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, to North Dakota.

Amos and Eva were married March 5 1923. Eva had been married before to Efton Clyde Farmer, they had two daughters Maxine Fay Farmer, Elnora Farmer.

Amos and Eva never owned a car in their early married life. Amos was a Laborer, finding what jobs he could. They were very poor. During the depression he worked at what was called BEST of WPA. It was run by the government, just trying to give men jobs like digging ditches are what ever during the depression He done the best he could for his family during this time.

Amos and Eva had two more daughters, Florence, and Grace.

He enjoyed his mission. One time he recalls three former missionaries that served together in the Western States mission field in 1909, got together at his home after half a century. Since they left the mission field they had the opportunity to recall their experience together.

Amos was able to get a job with Guy M. Nielson Construction Co., which he was mighty thankful. He continued to live and raise his family in Pocatello, Idaho.

Amos died on July 3, 1970. At the time of his death, he was 84.

Amos and Eva are both buried in the Mountain View Cemetery in Pocatello, Idaho.

They were sealed on the 27 June 1981 in the Seattle Washington Temple, and again on the 15 October 2008 in the Twin Falls Idaho Temple.
